SEES WAR FOR US IF GERMANY WINS

PINCHOT THINKS LUSITANIA TRAGEDY HAS AWAKENED AMERICA

ALLIES' VICTORY WOULD BE OURS

Says They Are Fighting for the Principles for Which the United States Stands.

Millford, Penn., May 22.—In a statement issued here today Gifford Pinchot, who recently returned from Europe, said: "What strikes me most on getting back from Europe is that the deliberate murder of men, women and children on the Lusitania has brought the war home to the United States. I do not believe that our people have realized until now what this war is, or what it means to us. The right of men to rule themselves is at stake. Our countrymen on the Lusitania were killed because an autocratic military empire is trying to seize the domination of the world at the expense of the self-governing nations.

"This war is a death struggle between democracy on the one hand and autocracy on the other. France is our sister republic, England is a great and free democracy. Russia is a great and free democracy. Russia itself is on the high road toward democratic government.

Germany, on the other hand, is not ruled by the people, but by Prussia and the Kaiser. The victory of Germany would not be the victory of her people, but the successful effort of a restricted military caste to get more power. Bernhardt expressed the belief of this caste when he said that Germany must control the world or go under.

"If the people did rule in Germany the invasion of Belgium, the calculated atrocities committed on helpless people, and the murder of our own citizens would not have taken place. The people of Germany would never have done these things of their own accord; they were done because they were ordered to be done by military autocrats. In return for killing a woman and a child, a wounded German said to his nurse, sister-in-law of a man I know. Do you suppose it makes any difference that my officer held his pistol to my head until I did it?"

"If the German war lord should win, which it has long been evident he cannot do, we should have to face the certainty of a conflict with German militarism because we should stand between it and world empire just as the allies do today. We should then be forced either to have our rights treated as the rights of humanity have been treated by the ruling German military class in this war, or to defend them. We should have to take our turn in protecting the principle of self-government against imperialism in arms or lose our self-respect. In that event, of course, we should have to fight.

"But if the allies win no such choice will be forced upon us. Their success will not mean war for the United States. On the contrary, it will mean victory for the free institutions which we hold dear and the chance for every nation to work out its own destiny in peace. The allies are fighting for the principles for which we stand, and our people are right in hoping and believing that they will win. It is almost as important for us that they should win as it is for the allies themselves.

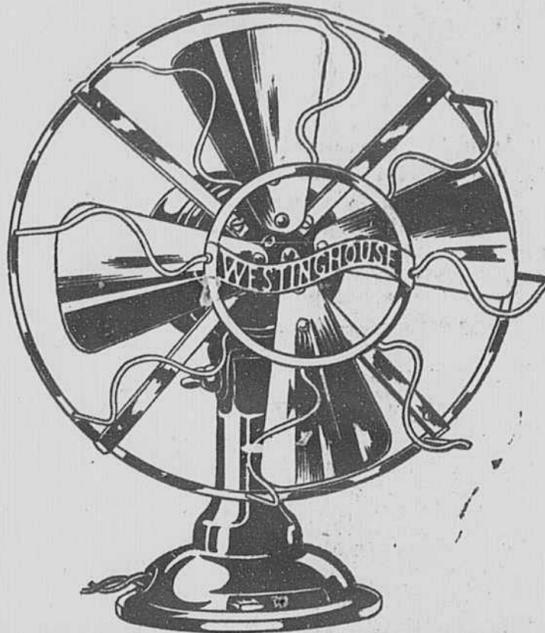

"The worst calamity this war could bring upon the world, next to the success of military imperialism, would be a half-baked, inconclusive peace—a peace which would permit the German military class to get ready for a second attempt to dominate the world. That kind of peace would do nothing but insure another war. We want a just and lasting peace, and not a mere intermission in the fighting."

Rifle That Shoots Around a Corner. A rifle that shoots over the parapet while the user sits in comparative safety in the trench without necessity for exposing himself to the fire of the enemy is a late invention brought out by a well known sportsman and described, with illustration, in the June Popular Mechanics Magazine. The feature of this invention is that the rifle is held vertically while the projectile is fired horizontally. This is accomplished by a curved deflecting tube, fixed to the muzzle of the gun, the changes the course of the projectile from the vertical to the horizontal as it leaves the gun. In spite of the enormous friction that must accompany this change of direction, the tube, as shown by actual tests, is not subject to excessive wear, while the effective range of a rifle equipped with this device is between 100 and 150 yards.

Hoop Cycle New Vehicle for Children. Something distinctly novel in the way of a pleasure vehicle for boys is described, with illustration, in the June Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is called a hoop cycle and serves to bridge the gap between the tricycle, furnishing an endless amount of fun and stimulus for exercise. The device consists of a 1-2-in. pipe welded into a large hoop, suspended within which are heavy rollers is a yoke carrying a seat. Extending to the rear of this is a two-wheeled balancing gear which is raised from the ground when the rider leans forward. The machine is propelled by the feet, the boy running until he gets up sufficient speed to carry him along, or rolling the cycle by an occasional push with his feet.

TELLS OF AUSTRIANS; SAVAGERY IN SIBERIA

States, and ally of humanity. You have done a great work in this connection. The Serbians are a grateful people, and they have been deeply touched by the help which America has given, especially since they have no claim on that help. The name of the United States will smell sweet in unhappy places—and one of them is Serbia.

"We may succeed in saving the people if the help is kept up. We in England mean to keep it up, and I am sure Americans do. It is all the more necessary now, because if we cannot get the refugees living in tents, get them new clothes, and provide sanitation, cholera will come, when the warm weather arrives. They cannot prevent it themselves. You must remember that the ordinary Serbian hospital is an old tobacco shop or an old stable, where there are no beds or bedding, and where the wounded and sick must lie in the clothes they came in."

Mr. Trevelyan had been introduced by Breck Trowbridge, chairman of the Serbian Agricultural Relief Committee, who said that, although Americans had been loath to believe that the reported atrocities were more than the acts of individual drunken soldiers, the loss of the Lusitania and the Bryce report made them accepted now as part of a definite policy of terrorizing.

Miss Helen Lozanitch, a Serbian who came here to organize relief under the sanction of her government, spoke briefly of her experiences as a volunteer nurse in Nish during the early part of the war.

"There were times," she said, "when we could not make bandages for the wounded because of lack of material. I worked as a volunteer nurse, as did others, because there are no trained nurses. Many times we did not have milk, eggs, or meat with which to make light soups for our patients, and it was terrible to think we were caring for those invalids and yet were not able to get the absolute necessities they required. Nish is a town of about 30,000 population ordinarily, and now there are many more than 100,000 there, and it is this that causes the sickness and the lack of food.

"The need of the refugees is great. Any help they get immediately will be two or three times as valuable as if it came a few months later. If typhus is to be stamped out we must go around making the people burn up their furniture and clothes and live in tents, and if you tell them to do that you must have something to give in place of what is destroyed."

SMALL TAX ON CURRANT WINE

Less Than Penny a Bottle—French Claret Tax Will be Fifty Cents.

London, May 22.—Currant wine made in England, often with an alcoholic strength as high as 27 degrees, pays a tax of less than a penny a bottle for the sugar used, while light French clarets would, under the proposed liquor tax bill, pay fifty cents a bottle. Californian and Australian wines suffer the same handicap as the French, for by an anomaly of the proposed law, current wines, which must contain a heavy percentage of alcohol as a preservative, nevertheless seem to be classed as a tinctural drink.

Australian wines have been under a heavy disadvantage in England for a long time. Owing to the long voyage, colonial hock has been shipped in bottles while German hock has been imported in bulk. Owing to the difference in duty between bulk and bottled goods, colonial wine has had to pay nearly double the duty charged on German wine.

AMERICANS WARNED OF JAPAN'S NEEDS

Other Speakers were Major Putham, Dr. Jeremiah W. Jenks, Mr. Russell, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, Charles A. Coffin, Consul General T. Nakamura, and Howard Mansfield.

Three-Piece Power Boat for Sportsmen

For the vacationist or sportsman who wants a comfortable power boat for fishing, hunting, or recreation, and needs to transport it to some out-of-the-way camping place where boats are otherwise unavailable, a three-piece craft which may be packed in a small crate and shipped shell, is described, with illustrations, in the June Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is 16 feet in length, has a 48-in. beam, and is made of cypress. When the seats are removed, the three sections nest together, leaving sufficient room in the crate for a pair of "knocked-down" cars, the seats, an outboard motor, and whatever ropes or anchor chains it is wished to carry.

Cotton should be side dressed just as soon after it is thinned out and clear of grass as can be done, so that the plant will get the full benefit of all this extra fertilization and of all the early rains. It does a great deal more good when applied early.

Fertilizer was used lightly this spring, and side dressing will pay handsomely this year if put on early. We are making a 652 and a 472 especially for side dressing. You will find it profitable to use it. It should be applied last of May if possible, if not then early in June.

If cotton is cheap the more you make to the acre the better you are off. If cotton is high the more you make to the acre the better you are off. For every dollar you pay out for side dressing you get back from three to five dollars. But apply it early. These goods are ammoniated with soda, blood, tankage and fish.

Mr. J. S. Fowler says that one advantage you get in side dressing your cotton is that if you sow your cotton lands in oats next fall, you will have enough fertilizer left in the soil to give the oats a good "send off," and he says that will be all in the world your oats will need to start them off in fine shape. So you see you can fertilize two crops with one application—killing two birds with one stone.
